

Geography: Deserts
What is a desert?

A desert is an area of dry land.
A desert gets very little precipitation.

Many deserts are hot.
Other deserts have cold winters or are cold year round.

Deserts are home to many plants and animals.

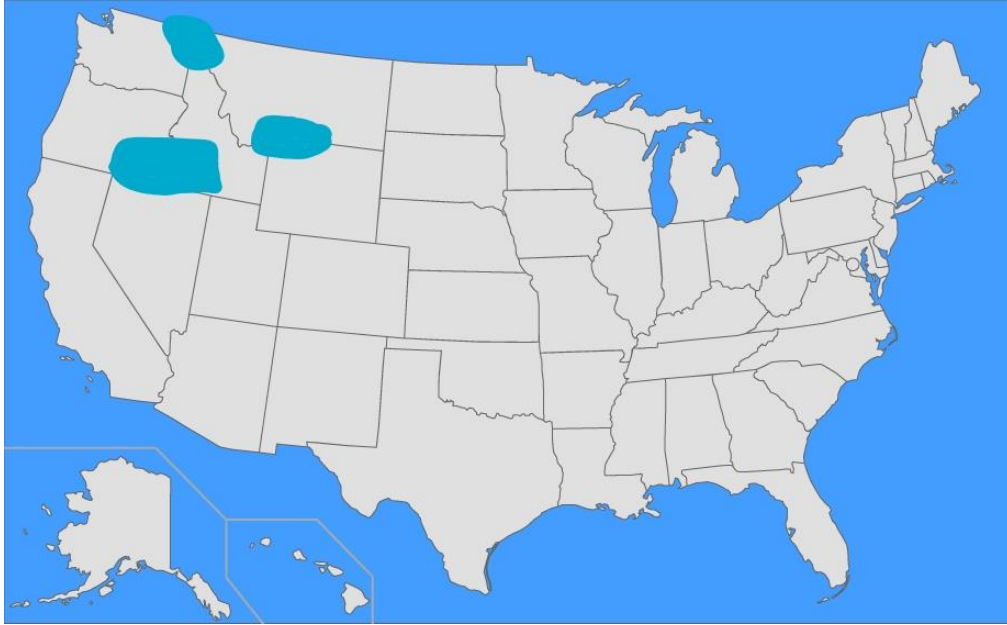

People have adapted to living in the desert for many years.

There are deserts in the United States.

Hot deserts are located in parts of California, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, and Texas.

There are cold deserts located in parts of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming.

Deserts are dry areas of land.

Plants, animals, and people can adapt to living in the desert.

More about Deserts

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mjaVm0vs2HY>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w9J4LFAGe5M>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pKjTHIAyR-A>